Mr. J. P. Blaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of that state during a recent blizzard, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful and that in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaize regards his cure as simply wonderful. Fifty cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1892.

Will the Advertiser kindly state when Mr. Macfarlane has expressed himself in the BULLETIN upon the Memorial Day episode? If it cannot do so, it should own up to a deliberate fabrication. The case championed by our contemporary must be a weak one, when it has to be bolstered up by a calculated untruth.

The Legislature has decided to squelch all investigation into the American Minister's alleged interference in local affairs in his Memorial Day oration. That is certainly within the competence of the Legislature, but it will likely fail to increase the respect of the great American nation, amongst whose characteristics are a love of independence and a disposition to champion weak countries with which she is on friendly terms. Americans will not defend their Ministers to other nations in anything that they would condemn in foreign Ministers accredited to their own Government.

THE MARIPOSA'S DEPARTURE.

The S. S. Mariposa resumed her voyage to the Colonies at 10 o'clock Saturday night. There was a large number of people to see her off, including many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ovide Musin, Mr. Scharf and Dr. Maurice. The Royal Hawaiian band was on the wharf and under the direction of Baadmaister Berger played several selections, also singing Aloha Oe and Alii Wela to the intense delight of the passengers on board. Mrs. Musin sang a selection from the deck of the steamer, Ovide Musin accompanying her on the violin. She was loudly applauded and had to respond to an encore. As the steamer slowly left her dock, the band played Auld Lang Syne, Star Spangled Banner, The Girl I Left Behind Me, German and British National Anthems and Hawaii Pono! While Mr. Berger conducted these numbers his handkerchief was tied at the end of his baton. The Musins will make their first stop at Auckland, playing there a week and then visiting Dunedin and Wellington. After that they leave for Sydney.

AN ISLAND BOY.

Heald's College Journal, San Francisco, for May, has the following: "The members of the Initiatory Book-keeping Class who have just completed their examination papers on the nature and classification of accounts, have been so prompt, neat, careful, and generally correct in their work that Professor Capp asks for their honorary mention." In the list given of "the students whose faithfulness to their duties are thus commended" appears the name of Willie Nott, son of Mr. John Nott of Honolulu. It is pleasant to see island boys holding their own so creditably.

HOW FAR A CHILD TRAVELS.

Many a healthy man, if he has to walk a mile or two, complains of the exertion and fatigue. But few realize the distance covered by a healthy child, and how we grumble when we find that the little ones so soon need new shoes! A gentleman of Pittsburgh recently made some curious experiments as to the distance covered by a child. An instrument fixed to the ankle of an eighteen-month-old baby showed that in the course of a day it had taken 6,483 steps, which, allowing six inches to the step, makes something like three-quarters of a mile for the toddler's ramblings. He next put a pedometer on his nine-year-old boy, which revealed the fact that the urchin daily traveled an average of about ten miles.—Examiner.

A Pittsburgh bicyclist has just started on a tour of the world on his wheel. The prospect is that he will never accomplish the journey as there are few men who possess the nerve and resources of Thomas Stevens, the only bicyclist who has ever put a girdle round the earth. Stevens would have been turned back several times on his journey had he not shown pluck and presence of mind that are not given to every man who rides a wheel. S.F. Chronicle.

THE LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTH DAY.

MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1892.
Morning Session.

House convened at 10 o'clock, President Walker in the chair. Prayer by Chaplain Waiamau. Minutes of Saturday's business were read by Secretary McCarthy and Interpreter Wilcox and were approved.

Rep. Akina, from the district of Waimea, Kauai, presented the following petitions: (1), that the law relating to the segregation of lepers be repealed; (2), that people on Kauai afflicted with leprosy and now residing at Kalalau be permitted to remain at that place; (3), that the law relating to compulsory vaccination be repealed. All referred to Sanitary Committee. (4), That the introduction of free rice be prohibited. To Committee on Commerce.

Minister Spencer reported as having been signed by Queen Liliuokalani bills (No. 1) relating to the payment of expenses of courts not otherwise provided for amounting to $2000; (2), appropriating the sum of $25,000 for the expenses of the Legislature of 1892.

The President appointed Noble Cornwell and Reps. Kanehah and Kamaoaha as a committee to wait on the Chief Justice and request his presence to swear in Noble Thurston who had just presented himself. The Noble was duly sworn in and took his seat.

Noble Neumann from the Judiciary Committee presented a majority report on the matters touching upon the eligibility of members of the Privy Council and attorneys to sit as members of the Assembly. The report was opposed to considering the members of the Privy Council as executive officers of the Government and approved their sitting in the Assembly. Rep. Smith and Noble Peterson joined in the report. Rep. Ashford presented a minority report on the same subject, signed by himself and Rep. White. Their opinion was that members of the Privy Council were executive officers of the Government. They had extensive power in the granting of pardons, etc. On motion the report was made the special order of the day for tomorrow.

Rep. Kamaoaha read for the first time a bill to amend Section 57 of the Civil Code by inserting the words "salt salmon" in place of "merchandise."

The same member offered the following resolution:

"WHEREAS the Honorable E. C. Macfarlane has before this House charged the U. S. Minister with 'unwarrantable action on a recent public occasion'—'action which could only be intended to interfere with and obstruct the Administration,' without naming the occasion, or defining the action referred to; and whereas, there has heretofore been no opportunity for this House to express its opinion on this subject; Now therefore be it resolved, that it is the sentiment of this House that such language and action of the Honorable E. C. Macfarlane concerning the Minister Resident of a friendly foreign Government is unjustified by any facts which have been presented to this House;

And be it further resolved, that all minutes relating to this matter be expunged from the records of this House.

Noble Marsden was in favor of the passage of the resolution; he considered that it was the wisest course. He was willing to give Noble Macfarlane all due credit for being jealous of any slight which may have been considered as cast upon the Hawaiian Kingdom, but he thought that the action of the honorable member was hasty and ill-considered. He had read carefully the address of the American Minister as delivered on Memorial Day and only by assumption could any reference be found to our local affairs and no one had a right to construe that assumption into a direct reference. He hoped that this would be the last heard of this matter.

Noble Macfarlane said that besides his question on the matter there had been a question addressed to the Minister of Foreign Affairs by Representative Bush, that the Cabinet lay before the House all the correspondence on the subject. He had not heard anything more on this matter outside of the Minister's asking for further time. Thought it would be unwise to take action on this resolution until that matter was laid before the House. When that happened he would have something to say to justify his course in the matter.

Rep. Ashford favored the resolution. He had heard the resolution read by Noble Macfarlane, in which he proposed that the American Minister be rebuked. He could not understand how that could be when there were no charges or specifications presented; it was generally understood that it was for a speech made by the Minister on Decoration Day at Nuuanu Cemetery, but all were left in the dark relative to the objectionable portion.

Noble Young—I am in favor of this resolution and I trust it will be adopted. I know of no way of preventing members of this House asking questions of the Ministers, neither do I know how to prevent the answers of the Minister questioned, and more particularly so when the answer follows the question with such cut and dry rapidity as did the answer of His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs to the question of Hon. Noble Macfarlane the other day, looking toward rebuking His Excellency John L. Stevens, the American Minister, for some supposed unwarrantable language used by him on a recent public occasion. At the same time it will be well to bear in mind that any member of this House having the temerity to spring absurd and nationally hurtful questions the answers to which he may or may not know to be cut and dry in the mind of the Minister interrogated places himself, and it may be the Minister also, in the hands of the members of this honorable body, to use their only remedy for being made appear to tacitly acquiesce in that which they do not endorse or even perfectly understand. In order, therefore, that the Nobles and Representatives composing this Legislature may have an opportunity of nipping untimely insults in the bud and of setting themselves right before their constituents, I solicit a unanimous vote in favor of the adoption of this resolution. I regret exceedingly that a gentleman possessed of such prudence and general good judgment as the honorable Noble should have allowed himself, being chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, to be made use of for the introduction of such an ignominious question. His child, adopted or otherwise, bears no resemblance to, and cannot be fathered by this House.

Minister Parker said that a question propounded the other day by Rep. Bush to him was that all the correspondence in the matter touched on by the question of Noble Macfarlane be laid on the table. He would say that the Government did not deem it proper to do so unless so instructed by a resolution of the House and not by the question of any one member. With regard to the cut and dried manner in which the question and answer seemed to have been presented he would say that Noble Macfarlane had called on him before coming into the House, had asked him questions on the subject of the policy of the Government toward the American Minister, and had left after stating that he (Macfarlane) intended to bring in a question officially before the House to the Minister on the subject. Minister Parker had simply prepared himself in a simple way, not knowing whether it would be effective or not, but it happened to fit. I have a reply from the American Minister to the Hawaiian Government but do not feel called to place it before the House without it is the expressed sense of the members.

Noble Young said he had no intention to cast any serious reflection upon the Minister, but the manner in which the question and answer came gave no chance for any other construction.

Rep. Kamaoaha was in doubt whether the questions proposed by Noble Macfarlane and Rep. Bush were in accord with Rule 94.

The resolution passed, after further debate, by 33 to 13.
